SEPTEMBER AT SARATOGA.

CROWDS OF PEOPLE CONTINUE TO VISIT THE GREAT RESORT.

DR. CUYLER AT THE SPRINGS - RECEPTIONS

AND HOPS-ARRIVALS FROM NEW-YORK AND VICINITY. Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 7 (Special) .- Notwithstanding the fact that many persons have reluctantly been compelled to bid an early autumn farewell to Saratoga during the week, with the promise to return next year, the arrivals have been large, and the September season" is proving an unprecedentedly perous one. The newcomers are principally those who have just returned from Europe and desire to recuperate in Saratoga's invigorating climate, and the sun-bronsed New-Yorkers, who have been rusticaling among the Adirondack Mountains and in the White Mountains. All of the leading hotels, with but a few exceptions, will remain open till the latter part of the month, while most of the boarding houses will not close until late in October.

The Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler, of Brooklyn, who has just returned from Europe, is here on his annual visit, and will occupy the pulpit of the New-England Congregational Church next Sunday evening.
William A. Shepard, one of the wealthiest chizens of this place, who was prostrated with malara at sett Pier, was brought here last Thursday in Dr. Seward Webb's private car. He was accompanied by the attending physician, Dr. Thomas H. Bucker, and a number of friends. Though Mr. Shepard is very ill, his return to this bracing climate will, it is believed, prove beneficial to him.

The Rev. Thomas W. Cain, a prominent colored clergyman, of Galveston, Tex., preached in the Bethesda Episcopal Church yesterday.

Bishop Doane will reach Saratoga next Saturday, and will officiate in the Bethesda Episcopal Church the following day. Miss Hall gave a reception on Monday evening at the Philadelphia-st, cottage of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hall, formerly of Brocklyn. Among those present were Mrs. McEwen, Miss Brown, Miss McEwen, Miss Dewd, Frank Dowd, the Misses Lamkin, Mrs. Barnaby, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Huestis, Ben Merrill, Mrs. Fish, Mrs. J. A. Smith, Miss Smith, Mrs. E. T. THE MILITIA AT REST.

At this time of year there is a conspicuous lack of activity in the armories of the National Guard. None of the usual drills is inflicted; most of the officers are out of town, and the soldiers, like students of the universities, are waiting for the fall activity to Philip Sands gave a large coming out party for his begin. All the regiments that have done a period of daughter, Miss Alice Sands, Wednesday evening. It service at the State Camp are satisfied with their military exploits for the warm season, and those whose turn comes next year have had their company plenies and excursions, or other rational sports and amusements to fill in the rather long vacation from | way, who charges him with perjury. Three years military duty. Already in their minds' eye members | ago Gibson was arrested for a criminal offence and of these regiments are counting on the joys of the Camp less than twelve months hence, and some of them are mapping out entertainments for the winter months. The 69th Regiment is restless about its prospective new armory. It will require an Act of the Legislature to condemn the alley, which is known as Hall Place, running from Sixth to Seventh sts., and which pre-vents the expansion of the building toward the eastward. Members think the Commission is decidedly slow in arrending to the matter, and say that the interests of the regiment are suffer-ing on account of it. The officers and members of the 69th Regiment resent with emphasis an attack on Colonel Cavanagh which they say appeared in a recent number of "The Guardsman." kins place home. The hares were not caught. Miss It charged him with a lack of business qualities, and sought to cast blame on him for delay with respect to the armory. An officer of the regiment said a few evenings ago that the attack must have arisen from personal spite, as it was exactly the opposite of the truth. There is a good deal of indignation over the affair.

Captain Morgan, of Company H, who has been making a tour of Europe, is expected home this week. The officers and members of Company C are laying their plans to give a military ball at the Metropolitan Opera House early in the season.

The 22d Regiment has done nothing since returning from the State Camp, but expects to begin serious work in a few weeks. The new armory at sixty-eighth-st. and the Boulevard is nearing completion, and the regiment will probably be able to move into it within the next year. Work will then be begun on the site of the present armory at Fourteenth-st, and Sixth-ave., in preparation for the new quarters of the 9th Regi-mont, the members of which will rejoice when the day comes for leaving the rookery they now occupy in West Twenty-sixth-st.

A committee of the 7th Regiment paid a visit to the armory of the 12th Regiment the other evening to inspect the new rifle range there, is fitted up in most respects respects like the underground ranges in the other new armories, Ir., Mrs. Charles A. Leland, Miss Lucretia Leland, but has one appliance which the others lack, namely, Mrs. F. W. White, William C. B. Kemp, Mrs. Arthur a power fan, and an immense galvanized-iron tube for Weiham. From Brooklyn are the following: Fred-erick Baker, Mrs. T. Baker, Miss Florence E. Baker, trivance was highly appreciated by the visitors from W. T. Winteringham, W. C. Taylor, B. F. Seaver, W. the 7th, who were shown that it worked admirably, Williamstown, Mass., Sept. 7 (special).-The hotels armories, as the smoke has been a great nulsance in here are doing a rushing business and the cottages are the underground ranges. The affairs of both these regiments are at a standstill at present. At the armory of the 7th it was thought that as soon as Adjutant Rand receives his commission as captain of Company F, First Sergeant R. A. Powers would be elected second Houtenant of that company, and J. D. Ford would take his present place. It is also thought Ford would take his present place. It is also thought to be settled that Lieutenant Willard C. Fisk, of Company A, will be appointed adjutant.

Colonel Kopper, of the 71st Regiment, is still up in Vermont, but is expected back in a week or two. The regiment is particularly happy during these duil days over the success of Arthur A. Clappe's band, which was organized for the regiment about a year areo. The leader is at present musical director at West Foint, but has not enlisted in the Government service. The band has been performing with marked success in Mt. Morris Park, and has made several engagements for the West during Septemesters. ments, and probably one or two others, but the members of most of them are not yet designated. They will be settled upon at Creedmoor on Turshay, probably. The team of the 13th Regiment will be composed about as follows: Captain of team, Luscomb, of Company K; ridemen Morris, of Company G; MoNowin, M. C. S.; Lotz, Company G; Constable, Company F; Lane, Company A; Harvey, Company G; Kraft and Werner, Company H; Feevan, Company F; Fahnstock, Company I, and Austin, Company G. Roserves, Wescott, of Company H; Robinson, of Company K, and Wiswell, of Company A. Iswell, of Company A. General Robbins, with his aide, Captain Thurston, if he at Creedmoor on Tuesday to arrange the detuils for the matches.

The only life displayed about armories is that produced by the preparations of the riflemen.

CHARGES AND COUNTER-CHARGES.

TWO BROADWAY MERCHANES ACCUSE MACE OTHER-ARRESTED FOR PERJURY.

John J. Gibson, a cotton commission merchant of No. 318 Broadway, was arrested on Friday on the complaint of Cornelius D. Weaver, of No. 18 Broadway, who charges him with perjury. Three years was convicted and sentenced for five years in the General Sessions Court, but an appeal was taken by Peter Mitchell, his counsel, and the sentence was reversed. and through an error in the proceedings no new trial

During the eighteen months that elapsed from the time that Gibson was first convicted he was in the Tombs. While he was trying to get ball Weaver came to him and promised his aid in getting him out, but really did nothing. In April, 1888, when Gibson was released, he found that Weaver had gone to his rooms and taken his pictures and furniture to his rooms and taken his pictures and furniture to his house in Troy, where Gibson found them last month after procuring a search warrant. This case is to be tried in General sessions in two weeks. But to offset the case Weaver swore out a warrant charging Gibson with perjury in awearing out the search warrant. He claims that Gibson gave him the goods in part payment for his services in helping him get out his trouble two years ago. Gibson was remanded by Justice Gorman at Jefferson Market Police Court this morning to await the arrival of an officer from Troy.

FOUGHT TO DROWN HERSELE.

A YOUNG WOMAN'S DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

There was an exciting rescue of a pretty young oman in the East River, at Grand-st., early yesterday, Lena Henzog, age seventeen, jumped overboard there and fought like a tigress to drown herself. She has been employed as a servant in a house in Stockton-st., Brooklyn, and her parents live in Stagg-st. In the same city. Half an hour after midnight she crossed the river from Broadway, Brooklyn, to Grand-st. of the ferryboat Idaho and immediately bought a return ticket. She waiked to the boat again and jumped overboard into the slip. Her strange behavior had attracted attention and there were prompt efforts to rescue her. A life-preserver was thrown within her each, but she refused to seize it. James Kelly, the gateman at the ferryhouse, jumped into the water and select the young woman. She tried to clude him and shook off his hold twice, but be managed to keep her from sinking until a rope was thrown to him from the ferryboat. Three times Kelly got the rope around the girl's walst and each time she threw the coil off. At length he tied the roce securely about her. She continued to fight and when Kelly was helping to drag her to a ladder which men had let down into the water, she bit him on the arm. Kelly was obliged to strike her in order to make her let go. After she was dragged out of the water to realize south as the reflection of the water was dragged out of the water to realize south as the reflection of the water that reflection the results and the reflection of the water that reflection the reflection of the water that reflection the reflection that the reflection of the water that reflection the reflection that the the police sent her to the Gouverneur Hospital under arrest. She refused to tell the police why she ha tried to drown herself, but her father, who we summoned from Brooklyn, said he thought she was in love with Henry Senger, a Grand-st, liquor dealer.

CHAPTAROUANS ON AN EXCURSION. A moonlight excursion up the Hudson River in which about 800 persons took part way giron las night by the Chautauqua Union of this city, on the iron steamboat Cygnus. Frank M. Cartis, secretary of the union, was in charge of the arrangements. An excellent sfring band and a caterer were on oard. The cool evening air made dancing an agreeable exercise, and the young people were not slow to make the most of it. The sail extended to the vicinity of West Point, the steamer returning to her pier at the Battery shortly after 11 o'clock. The Chantinqua Union was organized in June to consolidate the interests and the work of the many societies bearing the name of Chautauqua in this societies bearing the name of Chautaique in the city. Of the sixteen circles already carrying on a useful work, nine have joined the union, which is presided over by the Rev. B. B. Tyler, pastor of the Church of the Disciples of Christ. Dr. Tyler was called to the western part of the State, and was unable to attend the excursion, but among the prominent Chautaiquans present were E. B. Boook, president, and Miss C. A.
